The Four Legs of Impact

Impactful photos evoke laughter, sadness, anger, pride, or wonder.

Think of IMPACT
as a stool supported by these four legs:

- 4 legs Solid: Hard to knock over
- 3 legs Stable: Still very strong
- 2 legs Weak: Hard to stand up
- 1 leg Critical: Easily falls over
- 0 legs It's a snapshot

Storytelling
Evokes emotion

Creativity
Offers a fresh view

Composition
Guides the eye

Technical
Skillfully crafted

Judge the Photo, Not the Effort!

It is a slippery slope to include effort when evaluating a photo because assumptions must be made.

There is no way to know the actual capture effort

- Effort is highly dependent on photographer, technique & luck
- Maybe it's a composite
- Maybe it's a controlled environment (photo ops, zoo)

Plus, effort also happens outside of photo capture

- Hiking all night uphill to capture the sunrise?
- Using Photoshop for 20 hours?
- Planning and learning for three weeks?

Was this a lot of effort? What effort?

- Two weeks of wondering what is a great 'bricks' photo?
- Reading the camera manual to learn what is possible?
- Waiting for afternoon shade?

How did I capture this?

- Using video mode on my camera.
- One take, one brick destroyed, one video frame used.
- Effort was a lot less than you think!

The best choice is to evaluate on the photographic principles that you see.

The Scoring Anchor (experimental)

(9.0 – 10.0) THE ART: Impactful & Flawless

- 10.0: Absolute mastery. Unique. Rare.
- 9.5: The "WOW" factor. Near-perfection.
- 9.0: Award quality. Strong storytelling & composition.

(8.5) THE BRIDGE: Excellent

- 8.5: Notable creativity or emotion. Only subjective tweaks needed.

(8.0) THE BASELINE: Proficient / Very Good

- 8.0: Technically sound (sharp, well-exposed). A solid photo but lacks a "spark."

(7.0 – 7.5) THE MECHANICS: Competent but Conventional

- 7.5: Clear intent but needs refinement (lighting/composition).
- 7.0: "Record shot." Meets requirements but lacks originality.

(6.0 – 6.5) THE ISSUES: Needs Improvement

- 6.5: Minor Flaws: Soft focus, distracting background.
- 6.0: Obvious Errors: Serious technical or compositional issues.

The Art of Constructive Commenting

Comments should be offered in a constructive, respectful, and encouraging manner.

The goal of comment is to help all fellow photographers learn and grow.

Comments should be directed at the photograph, not the photographer.

Praise - Analyze - Suggest

Start with a positive comment

"I like the photo" needs a "Why" linked to photographic principles

Suggest an improvement for before the shutter was clicked
The subject, composition, exposure, perspective, story ...

If needed, suggest a simple improvement done in post processing
Crop, brightness, contrast, shadow, color, remove ...

Improvement ideas are suggestions, not rules
Use words like Maybe, Might, Consider ...

Aligned to Score

If it's in the bottom half of the scoring range, please don't say it's great or you love it ...

Providing Meaningful Feedback

Imagine a photo where the snow is 100% white

Poor – “It’s all blown out in the snow!”

The audience can already see this and not much advice on how to improve or why an issue.

Better – “To make the snow look more natural, you might want to adjust the exposure to capture more detail...”

The 4 Levels of Storytelling by PSA

Nature Images Must Tell a Story

The Levels of storytelling described below are intended only as a guide to help judges distinguish between weak and strong nature stories

Level 1

- Descriptive stories
- These are images that are limited to descriptive information about the subject - shape, color, size and so on – often with the subject in a static position.

Level 2

- Behavior and life cycle stories
- Tell a story about part of its life cycle – flying, stages of life cycle, food gathering

Level 3

- Same species interactions
- Same species (mates, parents/offspring, group members, and so on) interact

Level 4

- Different species interactions
- The nature story is often more complex because it involves more than one species.

High technical standards are expected at all levels.
